Subjects taught outside of the home: _____

(For students whose entire class load is being proctored by instructors outside of the home, there will only be conferences in Sept. and in June.)

PAYMENT PLAN CHOICE: (choose only one of the non-refundable alternatives)

- 1) Mail payments monthly ($25 is due in by the 5th of September - June)
- 2) Three installments ($83.33 is due by the 5th of Sept., February, and June)
- 3) One lump sum ($250 is due at the September conference)

LATE FEES: A $5 fee is charged for payments received after the 5th each month; if received after the 15th, an additional $5.00 is owed for that month. This policy is in place NOT to make more money but for encouraging on-time payments as I also have bills that are due. -Thank you

As a parent/guardian, I have read and reviewed the 2008-2009 Information Guide for the Eagle's Nest Eluminatus of Newnan. I realize that this service is separate from the actual school although the Christian beliefs set forth in the bylaws of the EN are still upheld. I know that all correspondence should be directed to the manager's home and realize that I am my child's primary instructor and will be present during the student's class time at home for assistance. Prior to meetings with the Center Manager, Tracie Orr, I will review the list of materials needed and will do my best to come prepared on the date and time scheduled. I will also call if I need to cancel an appointment instead of emailing that information.

I have reviewed the Q&A section of the Information Guide and am aware that when transferring from GAC home school centers into public or private systems, all credits may not be accepted, but I do know that the manager will work diligently to overcome any obstacles presented. This center will provide a graduation plan for my student, an updated transcript after completing an academic year in this program, and will have a documentation portfolio on file for my child.

And finally, my signature below validates my knowledge and understanding of the material listed on this application or stated in the Information Guide for 2007-2008.
